Explanations

Legal quotations without further designation refer to the Austrian Income Tax Act 1988 (EStG 1988) as most recently amended. Detailed tax information can be found in the Austrian Income Tax Guidelines 2000 (ESTR 2000) at www.bmf.gv.at/Steuern/Findok. The tax-relevant values are to be entered into all amount fields.

1 With the VAT gross system, the VAT invoiced is to be treated as operating revenue at the time it is collected and as operating expense at the time it is remitted to the tax office. The input tax amounts invoiced are operating expenditure at the time of payment and operating revenue at the time of offsetting with the tax office. Operating revenue and operating expenditure are therefore to be recognised inclusive of VAT.

The sum of the VAT payment charges paid in the assessment year is a operating expense (to be entered in code 9230), the sum of any VAT credits constitutes a operating revenue to be entered in code 9090. If both VAT payment charges and VAT credits result, a balancing must be carried out; if there is a credit excess, this is to be entered in code 9090; if there is a payment charge excess, this is to be entered in code 9230.

2 In the VAT net system, VAT is recognised neither on the revenue nor on the expenditure side. All operating revenue and operating expenses eligible for input tax deduction are therefore recognised net of VAT. As a rule, the net system is permissible only if the VAT is of a transitory nature, i.e. not in the case of a VAT exemption without input tax relief and the claiming of a flat-rate input tax rate (except if the flat-rate input tax allowance is claimed in accordance with § 14 I 1 of the Austrian Value Added Tax Act 1994 and at the same time the basic flat rate base in accordance with § 17 I is applied).

3 Profit determination by means of complete income-expenditure accounting means that no flat-rate taxation is claimed, and the operating expenses are reported in full. Operating revenue is to be reported according to codes 9040 to 9090, and operating expenses according to codes 9100 to 9230. Code 9259 (lump-sum operating expenditure) must not be filled in.

4 If the basic flat rate is applied, the operating revenue is reported in full, but the operating expenses are deducted at a flat rate of 12% of the sales. For the following income, the flat rate amounts to only 6% of the sales: Professional or commercial income from a commercial or technical consultation, an activity within the meaning of § 22 II (e.g. managing directors of a limited company under Austrian law who participate substantially, supervisory board members) and income from writing, lecturing, scientific, teaching or educational activities.

Apart from the lump sum, only the following deductions may be made:

- Expenditure for goods, raw materials and semi-finished products, auxiliary materials and ingredients;
- expenditure for wages (including non-wage labour costs);
- expenditure for third-party wages, if and insofar as these are directly included in services that form the business object of the company (e.g. contract manufacturing of goods),
- social-insurance contributions and contributions to self-employment provision schemes

All other operating expenses are covered by the operating expense flat rate, which is to be entered in code 9259.

Further information on the basic flat rate can be found on the homepage of the BMF ([www.bmf.gv.at/Steuern/Für Selbstständige & Unternehmer/Pauschalierung](http://www.bmf.gv.at/Steuern/Für Selbstständige & Unternehmer/Pauschalierung)) and in the Manual for Self-Employed Persons ("Selbstständigenbuch", www.bmf.gv.at/Publikationen), as well as in the Austrian Income Tax Guidelines 2000, Rz 4100 et seq.

5 Licensed hotels and restaurants may make use of the flat rate for the hotel and restaurant industry. The basic lump sum (10% of turnover, at least € 3,000) covers all operating expenses with the exception of

- those covered by the other two lump sums and
- those that must be considered separately at any rate, even in the case of flat-rate taxation.

The mobility lump sum (2% of the turnover) includes

- all vehicle costs and operating costs for the use of other means of transport and
- travel costs.

The lump sum for energy and premises (8% of the sales) includes all costs incurred in connection with the use of premises. The (total) lump-sum amount is to be reported in code 9259.

In addition, the basic tax allowance and certain operating expenses remain fully deductible: Use of goods, wages and non-wage labour costs, social-insurance contributions, training of employees, depreciation for wear (to be entered in maintenance and repair, rentals and leaseholds of real estate, borrowing costs. Further information can be found in the Austrian Income Tax Guidelines 2000, Rz 4287 et seq.).

6 The flat rate for chemists substantially corresponds to the basic flat rate, see Item 4.

7 According to the Ordinance for Flat-Rate Taxation of Artists/Writers, certain operating expenses can be considered at 12% of the turnover, up to a maximum of € 8,725 at a flat rate in code number 9259.

The lump sum covers: Expenses for usual technical aids (in particular computers, sound carriers including recording and playback equipment); expenses for telephone and office material; expenses for specialist literature and entrance fees; operational expenses for clothing, cosmetics and other expenses for the external appearance; daily allowances; expenditure for rooms located within the same structure (in particular study, studio, sound studio, rehearsal rooms); expenditure for the catering of business partners; usually undocumented operating expenses. Expenditure not covered by the lump sum are to be entered in the relevant codes.

8 According to the flat rate for commercial agents, certain operating expenses can be considered at 12% of the turnover, at the most at a flat rate of € 5,825 in code number 9259.

The lump sum covers: Per-diem allowances; expenditure for rooms located in the same structure (in particular warehouse and office premises); expenditure on the occasion of catering for business partners; usually undocumented operating expenses such as gratuities. Expenditure not covered by the lump sum are to be entered in the relevant codes.

9 Under the Ordinance for Flat-Rate Taxation of Athletes, for internationally active athletes who are subject to unlimited tax liability in Austria (due to their place of residence or habitual abode) and who predominantly perform abroad in the course of sporting events (competitions, tournaments) in the calendar year, the income from sporting activities, including advertising activities, subject to tax in Austria is to be recognised upon application at 33% of all such income (domestic and foreign). However, the income revenue excluded from the tax assessment base (67%) must be considered when determining the tax for the rest of the income revenue (entry in code 440 in Form E 1). Crediting of foreign taxes from the income determined at a flat rate is excluded.

If the flat-rate taxation is used, only 33% of the operating revenue and operating expenses are to be entered in the respective codes; the 67% to be excluded may not be entered in code 9259.

10 The Ordinance for Flat-Rate Taxation of Non-Accounting Tradespersons BGBI. № 55/1990, provides for a sector-specific lump-sum operating expenditure rate for a total of 54 trades. The following operating expenses may also be considered:

Purchasing of goods, raw materials and auxiliary materials, semi-finished products and ingredients (according to purchase journal); wage expenditure (according to payroll account), employer's social security contribution, housing subsidy contribution, employer's contribution to the family burden equalisation fund; depreciation; expenditure for rent or lease, energy, heating, post and telephone; VAT paid (with the exception of VAT from internal consumption) and VAT (input tax) for expenses requiring capitalisation; contributions to compulsory insurance in statutory health, accident and pension insurance as well as the basic tax allowance.

11 Please enter the type of your activity here in the form of a three-digit industry code (Branchenkennzahl, BKZ). For more detailed explanations on this see Form E 2, Item 85. With regard to mixed operations, the following applies: A mixed operation is present if at least 20% of the operating sales are not attributable to the industry code stated. In this case, the industry code number of the predominant turnover is to be stated, and the existence of a mixed operation must be ticked.

12 In code 9050, income/operating revenue to be reported for the respective assessment, for which a notification according to § 109a was issued, is to be entered. For information on the notification obligation pursuant to § 109a, please refer to the "Tax Book" (to be found at www.bmf.gv.at – Publications) or Rz 8300 et seq of the Austrian Income Tax Guidelines 2000, respectively.

To income stated in a notification on the basis of a freelance contract of employment pursuant to § 4 IV of the Austrian General Social Security Act, the following applies: In code 9050, the amount recorded in the notification is to be entered without deduction of retained employee shares for social insurance and without deduction of contributions to pension funds; these deduction items are to be entered as operating expenditure in code 9225; this also applies if the basic flat rate pursuant to § 17 I is used.

13 Operating revenue from the disposal (sale, withdrawal) of fixed assets is to be entered in code 9060. Insurance compensations are to be entered in code 9090.

14 In code 9090, enter the total of all operating revenues (accrued in the calendar year) with the exception of the operating revenues to be entered in codes 9040, 9050 and 9060.

15 Note that expenditure for your own personnel must be reported in code 9120.

16 In code 9120, expenditure on wages and salaries and non-wage labour costs are to be reported.

17 In code 9130, depreciation for wear (AfA, §7,8) for fixed assets (including motor vehicles) as well as immediately deducted low-value fixed assets (§ 13, i.e. those whose acquisition or production costs do not exceed € 400 per individual case) is to be entered.

18 In code 9160, travel costs (actual vehicle costs excluding motor vehicle leasing costs and motor vehicle depreciation for wear, as well as mileage allowances) are to be entered; daily allowances and accommodation allowances on the occasion of a business trip are also to be entered here.

19 Code 9180 includes expenditure on rentals and leaseholds as well as leasing (including motor vehicle leasing). Expenditure for heating, lighting and cleaning of rented rooms and operating costs is not to be entered here.

20 In code 9220, interest for corporate bank loans, credits, mortgage loans and disbursement and commitment commissions for a loan or credit line is to be entered.

21 In code 9225, contributions for one's own compulsory social security insurance or to a pension and support institution are to be entered; contributions for one's own self-employment provision schemes are also to be entered here. Such expenditure can be deducted in addition to the flat rate pursuant to § 17 I when the basic flat rate is used.

22 Here, donations are to be entered that have been made from the business assets to the recipients named in the respective codes. They represent operating expenses insofar as they do not exceed a total of 10% of the operating profit before consideration of a tax-free profit allowance.

23 Here, any contributions to the assets of a non-profit foundation are to be entered (§ 4a). The deductible amount is limited to 10% of the operating profit before consideration of a profit allowance.

24 Any donations to the Innovation Foundation for Education and its subfoundations are to be entered here. Within the maximum amounts laid down in § 4c, such contributions are to be considered as operating expenses. No loss may be incurred as a result of the contribution being considered.

25 In code 9230, all operating expenses to be considered in the calendar year that are not to be recorded separately are to be entered as a total.

26 In the case of flat-rate taxation, the relevant lump sum for operating expenditure is to be entered in code 9259. When the flat rate for athletes is claimed, the income not to be reported (67%) may not be excluded via code 9259; see Item 9.

27 There is entitlement to a tax-free profit allowance in the form of a basic tax-free allowance amounting to 13% of the profit, but totalling no more than € 3,900 per person and assessment year. The basic tax allowance is automatically deducted in the income tax assessment notice, so no entry is required. Please note that the amount to be entered in the income tax return E 1 in line 9, 10 or 11a and included in the codes 310/320/330 is further reduced in the income tax assessment by the tax-free profit allowance. However, you have the option of waiving consideration of the basic tax allowance; in this case, you must fill in the checkbox.
